

Environmental Policy

Origami Graphics is a primarily paper-free business.

Steps taken to reduce environmental impact of paper use include:

- Receipts and invoices are kept securely in electronic format.
- Payment is taken electronically only.
- E-mails are not printed.
- A very small amount of business cards are printed on recycled cotton.
- Documents are only printed for clients upon request.

Origami has enacted a paper-free policy in order to protect the environment. Each year, billions of trees are cut down across the planet to make paper and rubber, clear for landfill, and create room for livestock and crops. This demolishes natural ecosystems, causes deterioration of endangered animal species and contributes to human-caused greenhouse gas emissions which put the health and wellbeing of all life at risk.

As a forward-thinking business, Origami feels that it is its responsibility to create as little waste as possible environmentally. In line with this, please also consider the environment before creating unnecessary printing.
